

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

VOLUME XXII.—NO. 9.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1909.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

TRIBUTE

To Father Corby Will Be Lasting Monument to Irish Brigade.

Bronze Tablet on Battlefield of Gettysburg to Be Erected.

Gave Absolution to Thousands of Dying on Historic Ground.

A PIONEER OF NOTRE DAME

A movement has been started to Philadelphia to erect a monument on the battlefield of Gettysburg to the Rev. William Corby, C. S. C., who served as a Chaplain through the civil war. It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

FAIR DEALING.

President Roosevelt Comended by an Eminent Priest.

President Roosevelt received the Rev. Father A. P. Doyle, rector of the Apostolic Mission House, and twenty-five young Catholic clergymen at the White House on Saturday of last week. The President's reception of the visitors was very cordial and in introducing the young Levites Father Doyle took occasion to say:

"With your permission let me take the opportunity of this audience, the last that will probably be given to us while you are our present Chief Executive, to acknowledge acts whereby you have manifested a vein-handed justice to the Catholic citizens of the United States, as such, has never asked for my special favors under the constitution. They have desired simply and solely that they be treated as other good citizens and that no discrimination be made against them on account of their religion. During the semi-centennial that you have occupied the Presidential chair you have been the living embodiment of this principle, and while we are authorized in no sense to speak for the Catholic body, still it is quite possible to reflect in an informal and unofficial way the magnitude of the 22,000,000 Catholics of America, who live under the flag of the honest, fearless, square dealing which you have meted out to the Catholic citizens of this land."

"I have long wanted to tell you something which I know will interest you as well as other Catholics. We have a settlement of colored Catholics, about fifty or sixty million between three and four miles from this town. These people come from Louisiana, and whilst most of them are renters, there are several who have succeeded in buying a piece of land. They are industrious and orderly, respectful toward their white neighbors, and their conduct is such that until now we have not had a case in court from the whole colony. The difference between these negroes and others living in and around our town is like day and night, and I have often been wondering what could be the cause of such difference. I have come to the conclusion that it must be their religion, which has changed them into such good people."

"You have just hit the nail on the head," we interrupted him; "it is the Catholic religion which changes the negro into a different man."

"But," the lawyer continued, "if this is the case, and your church is aware of it, why does it not make more efforts toward the conversion of the race?" Colored people of this kind are welcome everywhere, and we are trying to get as many of them as we can for our colony."

"Such is the statement of a Protestant Southerner about Catholic negroes. Should this not be an incentive to our Catholics to support the colored missions and assist every way possible in the work of conversion and uplifting of the race?"

The appeal of our Right Rev. Bishop will doubtless meet with as generous a response as the purses of the people permit.

ALEX'S REWARD.

Faithful Services of Engineer Remembered by Gov. Wilson.

Miss Alice Cronin has been appointed one of the clerks with the State Board of Equalization at Frankfort. She is only eighteen years old and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. M. Cronin, of 1213 Garvin Place.

More than twenty years ago Hon. Augustus E. Wilson espoused the cause of union labor before the Kentucky Legislature at the request of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Mr. Wilson's activity in this behalf enabled many former Democrats among the engineers to vote the Republican ticket in national politics. In 1896 Alex. M. Cronin organized the engineers of the L. & N. from Cincinnati to New Orleans for McKinley and better wages, and was general manager of the trains that went to Canton, Ohio, October 17, 1896, carrying more than 5,000 workmen from the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company's shops at New Orleans, New Decatur, Birmingham, Memphis, Nashville, Louisville and Covington. Mr. Cronin is one politician that has never sought office, and one who never forgets a friendly act.

Miss Cronin is a bright and attractive young woman and is a graduate of Holy Name School, Louisville, where the Rev. Father John T. O'Connor presides. She is the first lady to win a place in connection with the State Board.

WARM WELCOME.

The Right Rev. Bishop Muldoon is being warmly received wherever he appears in his new diocese of Evansville, Ind. Recently he made his first episcopal visit to the city of Bedford, the hero of San Juan Hill, will enter the Eternal City next month. Pope Pius would give the distinguished American a warm welcome. So also would King Victor Emmanuel, but the question is who will receive the first visit, Pope or King? Mr. Roosevelt will no longer be President of the United States, but every American believes he will show proper diplomacy when he visits the home of the Caesars.

BRILLIANT IRISHMAN.

Tomorrow John J. Nolan will take the oath of office as Mayor of Evansville, Ind. He is now the City Comptroller and, in Southern Indiana, is regarded as one of the surest Irishmen that ever came into business circles. He is a man of standing in business circles, and well liked by all. He will probably be elected to succeed himself at the end of the present term.

WORTHY

Is the Cause in Which Our Right Reverend Bishop Appeals For Aid.

Indian and Negro Missions Are Sadly in Need of Funds.

Collection at Diocesan Churches Tomorrow Will Be Generous.

AN EXAMPLE IN THE SOUTH

The Right Rev. William George McCloskey, Bishop of Louisville, has ordered a collection to be taken up at all the missions in the parishes of the diocese tomorrow for the Indian and negro missions. It is this he requested the parishes of the respective parishes to urge their flock to contribute as liberally as their means will allow. In Kentucky the Indians are only of the past, but the negroes are always before our eyes, and to those who need real, live object lessons, the case of the unfortunate negroes is one that ought to make a strong appeal. The red man was here before the white man. The latter came and drove him out of his possessions. The white man came of his own accord, but the negro came, not voluntarily but as the slave of the white man. He has a soul to be saved as well as has the white man, and it is the duty of his more fortunate white brother to help him save that soul.

Along these lines the editor of the Colored Man's Friend, published at Galveston, Texas, recently wrote:

"Some time ago we met on a train in lawyer of one of the smaller towns of this State, with whom we have been personally acquainted for some years. After the usual handshake and greeting, this lawyer began to talk on the negro question, and said

"I have long wanted to tell you something which I know will interest you as well as other Catholics. We have a settlement of colored Catholics, about fifty or sixty million between three and four miles from this town. These people come from Louisiana, and whilst most of them are renters, there are several who have succeeded in buying a piece of land. They are industrious and orderly, respectful toward their white neighbors, and their conduct is such that until now we have not had a case in court from the whole colony. The difference between these negroes and others living in and around our town is like day and night, and I have often been wondering what could be the cause of such difference. I have come to the conclusion that it must be their religion, which has changed them into such good people."

"You have just hit the nail on the head," we interrupted him; "it is the Catholic religion which changes the negro into a different man."

"But," the lawyer continued, "if this is the case, and your church is aware of it, why does it not make more efforts toward the conversion of the race?" Colored people of this kind are welcome everywhere, and we are trying to get as many of them as we can for our colony."

"Such is the statement of a Protestant Southerner about Catholic negroes. Should this not be an incentive to our Catholics to support the colored missions and assist every way possible in the work of conversion and uplifting of the race?"

The appeal of our Right Rev. Bishop will doubtless meet with as generous a response as the purses of the people permit.

At the beginning of the war Father Corby was appointed as Chaplain of the Eighty-eighth New York Infantry, one of the regiments of the Irish Brigade. Previous to his appointment to the Chaplaincy Father Corby was serving as a professor in the University of Notre Dame, then struggling for an existence in the woods of Indiana. When the first gun was fired on Fort Sumter and war was declared, the Rev. Father Edward Sorin, C. S. C., founder of Notre Dame, called his young priest about him and said there would be need of Chaplains for the soldiers. Although he could ill spare from their duties in the new college any of his young professors, he believed it was patriotic obligation to make sacrifices in order that Catholic soldiers might have the benefits of the priest in fighting for the Union. Accordingly he chose six of the priests and sent them away with their bibles and with those remaining he took up the added duties created by the departure of the six professors. Father Corby was one of these six who left Notre Dame.

His career during the war has been modestly told in a volume by himself entitled "Memoirs of a Chaplain's Life." He served with fine effect during the entire struggle and merited the praise of all the commanders whom he met, to say nothing of the love he inspired in the hearts of the men in the ranks. When the war was over he returned to Notre Dame and resumed his place as professor. He was twice President of the university, and at the time of his death in 1887 he was Provincial of his order in America. The battle flag of the Irish Brigade was presented to the university a few years before he died, the living officers and men declaring that this precious relic should be preserved near the spot where lived their old Chaplain who had loved and ministered to the men who fought beneath him.

The Irish Brigade was organized after the retreat of the Federal troops at Bull Run and took part in nearly all the battles of the war. It originally numbered five thousand men, but only a few hundred returned to their homes when peace was proclaimed, so desperately did these brave Irish Catholics battle for the country in which they had found a home. The brigade was fortunate in its leader, the brilliant Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, one of the most gallant soldiers who ever drew sword on the battlefields of America. It was the proud boast of the brigade that they never lost a flag and never showed their backs to the enemy. Whenever a desperate situation confronted Generals Sumner, Richardson, Hancock, Porter and Miles, who in turn commanded the First, division, Second corps, to which the brigade was attached, they called on the men "with sprigs of green in their hats" to save the situation, and they were never disappointed. Among many of their notable achievements was the capture of the Sunken Roads, known as "Bloody Lane," for which they were specially mentioned in the dispatches by McClellan; the saving of the right wing of the army at Gaines' Mills, and for this they were publicly praised by Gen. John Porter. At the battle of Fredericksburg the brigade entered the battle 3,000 strong, and when the conflict was over only 250 of these brave soldiers could answer the roll call. The battle was almost wiped out of existence on that day. The officer detailed to bury the dead on that terrible occasion found the soldiers of the Irish Brigade lying within forty yards of the enemy's guns. Such was the valor of Irish Catholics during the civil war and to such men was Father Corby known as "the glorious priest."

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those most nearly interested that the monument shall stand everlasting as a tribute to the strong devotion of the Catholic priests to the soldiers during the terrible years of civil strife, and incidentally to commemorate one of the most striking events of religion that ever took place on any battlefield—the giving of general absolution to a whole brigade just before they entered the battle.

It is the intention of those

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

Devoted to the Social and Moral Advancement of Irish Americans and Catholics Officially Endorsed by Ancient Order of Hibernians, Young Men's Institute and Catholic Knights of America.

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN PRINTING CO., Incorporated, Publishers
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR SINGLE COPY 50¢

Entered at the Louisville Postoffice as Second-Class Letter.

Address all Communications to the KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN, 335-37 West Green St.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1909.

TIMELY PHILIPPIC.

That the Catholic church wields influence was never more in evidence than today. One example ought to suffice. Archbishop Farley denounced the moral tone of some of the present stage productions, and immediately the New York papers and magazines applauded His Grace. Since then newspapers elsewhere have taken up the cudgel in defense of decency on the stage. The Herald of Cheyenne says:

"Archbishop Farley's attack in his sermon of Sunday last on some of the plays that are occupying the boards in New York City has aroused an interest that may fairly be called sensational. He characterized them as 'orgies of obscenity.' The Archbishop did not specify the objectionable plays, and for this he has been criticized on the ground that his indictment might injure reputable playhouses. The average newspaper man will not be at a loss to understand the reason why the Archbishop deemed it advisable to 'name no names.' It he had blazoned the list from his pulpit it would have raised to an irresistible pitch the curiosity of a certain class of playgoers; it would have meant a rushing business for each of the disreputable theaters, and the managers of the 'orgies of indecency' would have laughed in their sleeves. It is a similar consideration that often restrains newspapers from condemning plays that richly deserve it. As a moral teacher, however, the Archbishop was constrained to give expression to his righteous indignation; and we do not believe that the decent and wholesome drama has anything to fear from his justifiable philippic."

That it was justifiable, however, was convincingly demonstrated by the statement of Charles M. Burnham, President of the Theatrical Managers' Association of the metropolis, in which he deplors the filthiness of certain plays now running in that city. Mr. Burnham does not specify the plays any more than the Archbishop, but there are said to be five or six of them.

"Of course, the managers of the offensive plays are out with their familiar defense and apology, to the effect that dramatic pabulum of this obnoxious character is supplied because there is an active demand for it. The same kind of excuse might be offered by the keeper of a gambling or immoral resort or by an utterer of counterfeit money. It is tantamount to defending theatrical vice on the ground that theatrical vice is profitable. It is all disheartening revelation of depraved social taste. Nevertheless, the influence of men like Archbishop Farley is the chief reliance for its ultimate amendment."

USE OF PROFANITY.

The gluton who eats too much feels that he has some satisfaction. So does the intemperate man who drinks too much. The lazy man enjoys his sloth. The lewd and lascivious get certain physical satisfaction from their sins. The murderer thinks he has avenged a wrong and is satisfied. The employer who pays his employee not what they are worth, but what he can get from them, gets a certain satisfaction out of his greed for gold, even though he knows he is guilty of one of the sins crying to heaven for vengeance. Yet there is one sin greater than all these, more common, and at the same time one that yields no satisfaction to the man who commits it. What satisfaction, what recompense can the profane man expect? The misuse of the holy name of Jesus, the calling upon God to witness idle statements, any sort of profanity or obscenity, has no part in the scheme of human existence."

The Catholic church has always combated this evil. Before the dawn of the Christian era God gave the commandments to Moses on Mount Sinai, and the second was: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." The Holy Name Society was particularly organized to combat this evil, and during the last thirty years has done great work. Here in Louisville we have only one branch of the society. In the New England and Eastern States there are branches in nearly every parish. Why should the West and the South allow the Eastern States to have a monopoly on gentleness? No gentleman will swear.

SPOKE TO NON-CATHOLICS.

The Right Rev. Bishop Keane, of Cheyenne, Wyo., delivered a series of SOCIETY.

Mrs. R. J. Nugent and children have gone to Florida to spend a month.

Mrs. J. D. Davahy, of Indianapolis, is the guest of Mrs. W. T. Speak for a few days.

Miss Lizzie Hall, of New Haven, is here to spend several weeks with friends.

Miss Annie McGill will arrive home next week after spending a fortnight in New York City.

Miss Loretta Fitzgibbon and Mrs. Fitzgibbon have returned from a visit to Shreveport.

Thomas Hogan, of South Louisville, left Sunday for New Orleans to witness the Mardi Gras festivities.

Mrs. J. P. Connor, of South Louisville, has been spending the week with relatives at Bardstown.

Miss Mary Coll, of Jeffersonville, has gone to Terry Haute, where she is the guest of Miss Edna Wright.

Miss Ollie Cambon spent last week at New Haven as the guest of her cousins, Misses Reheen and Jenny Nevitt.

Miss Virginia Keeney, of Jeffersonville, is spending a week in Lexington, where she is the guest of Mrs. H. N. Cook.

Col. Harry B. Driver, his wife and little son William, returned home on Monday after a pleasant stay at West Baden Springs.

W. Simpson, a prominent citizen of Russellville, was this week the guest of John W. and James Simpson, of 4112 Third street.

Miss Mary Winifred Speak entertained Friday night in honor of Miss Edna Pruita, a charming visitor from Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Mary McBride and her sons, Coleman and Charles, are enjoying their stay in Tucson, Ariz., and all is excellent health.

Mrs. T. J. O'Brien and daughters, Misses Mamie and Margaret, who have been visiting friends in Indianapolis, have returned home.

Mrs. Michael Thornton and daughter, of New Albany, visited Mrs. Thornton's brother, Thomas Tiley, and his family at Cincinnati this week.

Carl Newton and bride, who was Miss Nellie O'Brien, of Howard Park, have returned from their wedding trip and are at home to friends on Miller avenue.

Miss Nellie Kenney, of 2254 Franklin avenue, who has been seriously ill, is convalescing rapidly, and her friends expect her complete recovery within a few days.

Mrs. Iren J. Sand, of 2745 Hank street, spent several days at Indianapolis this week. While there she was the guest of friends and the guest of honor at several social affairs.

Mrs. and Mrs. C. E. Lager, 312 North Twentieth street, celebrated the first anniversary of their wedding last night. Many of their friends called and were given a cordial reception.

Mrs. George Ziz entertained at her home in Clifton on Washington's birthday both afternoon and evening. All her guests enjoyed a good time and several handsome prizes were distributed.

Mrs. August Oetken, mother of John Oetken, of New Albany, has been seriously ill in her home in that city for several weeks, but her many friends hope she will soon reach the convalescent state.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, 1933 West Broadway, entertained in a most delightful manner and refreshments in honor of Miss Maggie Burke, of Bowling Green, who was last week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, 1123 West Broadway.

Albert Binford and his sister, Miss Irene Binford, went to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras festivities, and are expected home next week. Miss Binford spent the greater part of the winter at Ocean Springs, Miss., as the guest of Captain and Mrs. J. M. Lowe.

Miss Marie Keely, of 1116 Rogers street, who has been ill for several weeks with typhoid fever, is steadily improving and her complete recovery it is hoped will be but a short time distant. Miss Keely is a most charming young lady and a popular favorite in the Highlands.

A most delightful surprise party was tendered David J. Malone at his home, 2020 West Broadway, on Thursday of last week. A very enjoyable evening was spent by those present. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Malone, proved to be delightful host and hostess, and provided an excellent luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Smith, who were married at the Cathedral of the Assumption by the Rev. Father Rock on Thursday of last week, will be at home to their friends at 414 East Walnut street after the middle of March. They are spending their honeymoon in the South. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Caumissar.

The Catholic Woman's Club was organized about seven years ago, and the late lamented Father Bouchet was the prime mover and gave the organization much time and attention. Since then similar organizations have been formed on similar lines in various cities, and all are working well.

THE ELOQUENT IRISH.

The well known journalist, W. T. Stead, in a recent magazine article, pays the following tribute to Irish oratory: "The Irish are most the most eloquent of the English-speaking nations. Even in America, William C. Bryan is of the Irish descent. In the eighteenth century the great Parliamentary orators, Burke, Sheridan, Grattan, Curran, Flood, were all Irish. In the nineteenth, Plunkett, O'Connell, Magee, A. M. Sullivan and Sexton, all stand in the front rank. In the present Parliament, John E. Redmond, T. P. O'Connor and T. M. Healy are the most effective speakers."

Miss Amelia Anna McBride was the hostess at a George Washington party given at her home last Monday evening. Prizes were won by Misses Blanche Gorman, Loretto Cassidy and Messrs. David J. Malone and Henry A. Vissman. Corsets were sold for eighteen and the guests were Misses Blanche M. McGrath, Imelda Shea, Regina Haffner, Loretto Cassidy and Messrs. Edward J. Bennett. The sons are Officer Edward Kassenbrock and Louis and William Kassenbrock.

STEWART DRY GOODS CO.

(Business Established Sixty Years.)

NEW YORK STORE.

Extraordinary Special Values In Women's Imp. Cotton Hosiery On Sale Today.

REGULAR 35c VALUE—SPECIAL AT 18c PAIR.

Extra special lot of Women's Imported Cotton Hosiery, full regular made; medium and light weight; all reinforced; sizes 8 1/2 to 10; in tan and black or black with split foot; regular 35c value—Special at pair 18c.

65c SILK LISLE HOSE FOR 35c—THREE PAIRS $1.00.

Women's Imported Ingrain and Plain Lisle and Silk Lisle Hosiery, full regular made; re-enforced; beautiful quality; all sizes; 65c hose—Special, pair 35c; three pairs for $1.00.

25c LISLE HOSIERY FOR 17c—THREE PAIRS 50c.

Women's Black Lisle Thread Hosiery, medium gauze; full seamless; re-enforced; regular length and all perfect; sizes 8 1/2 to 10; 25c hosiery—Special, pair 17c; three pairs 50c.

39c HOSIERY FOR 25c.

Women's Black, Medium and Heavy Ingrain Lisle Thread; full regular made; re-enforced; sizes 8 1/2 to 10; 39c hose—Special for 25c.

STEWART DRY GOODS CO.

(Incorporated) IN CONNECTION WITH JAMES MCGHEEY & CO., NEW YORK.

NEW MASONIC

MONDAY MATINEE March 1st

BOYLE WOOLFOLK PRESENTS THE FAMOUS ORIGINALS

MURRAY AND MACK

IN HIS NIFTY SONG SHOW

"THE SUNNY SIDE OF BROADWAY."

IT IS TO LAUGH

40—PEOPLE—40

NEXT WEEK Jas. J. Corbett In the Broadway Farce Success "FACING THE MUSIC."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

A new council was instituted at Carlyle, Ill., last Sunday.

Fifteen priests were in the class of 175 candidates who took the fourth degree at Milwaukee on Washington's birthday.

The council at Geneva, N. Y., initiated a class eighty-six last week, and no less than a thousand visiting Knights witnessed the exemplification of the three degrees.

The remains of Dennis of the sons of the deceased members of Syracuse Council was celebrated at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The members met at the Larne Hotel and marched to the Cathedral.

Jeffersonville Council will initiate a large class after Easter. Raymond Stanton, ex-Senator James Fortune, Bernard Coll and Police Commissioner John Murphy, Jeffersonville's "Big Four," are hustling for members.

The fifteen councils of St. Louis are making elaborate preparations for a carnival to be held in their beautiful new home, commencing Monday, April 12, and lasting all week. A number of worthy dependent institutions will be the beneficiaries.

Dayton Council initiated the largest class in its history last Sunday, and nearly every council in the Buckeye State was represented by one or more members. The home team exemplified the first degree, Piqua Council the second and a team from Fort Wayne, Ind., put on the third.

New York Chapter held its annual banquet and exemplification of the Fourth degree, at the Hotel Astor Monday night. Judge Victor Dowling presided as master of ceremonies. The members met at the Larne Hotel and marched to the Cathedral.

Thomas Cummins died at his residence, 1406 Quincy street, Tuesday night as the result of cerebral hemorrhage. His wife and seven children, two brothers, John and William Cummings, and sister Mrs. Frank Spill, of Jeffersonville, survived him. His remains were sent to the residence of his father-in-law, C. Meissner, New Albany, and the funeral took place from Holy Trinity church on Thursday morning. His demise is regretted by many warm friends in the three Falls' cities.

The funeral of Henry Kassenbrock, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Seifried, 3614 Blank street, last Saturday, took place from the Church of Our Lady in Portland on Monday morning. The deceased was a native of Germany, but came to America when quite a youth and had lived in Portland for more than half a century, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. His wife, three sons and four daughters survive him. The daughters are Mesdames Nellie Benson, Minnie Seifried, Mary Diehl and Rose Bennett. The sons are Officer Edward Kassenbrock and Louis and William Kassenbrock.

The funeral of Henry Kassenbrock, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Seifried, 3614 Blank street, last Saturday, took place from the Church of Our Lady in Portland on Monday morning. The deceased was a native of Germany, but came to America when quite a youth and had lived in Portland for more than half a century, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. His wife, three sons and four daughters survive him. The daughters are Mesdames Nellie Benson, Minnie Seifried, Mary Diehl and Rose Bennett. The sons are Officer Edward Kassenbrock and Louis and William Kassenbrock.

CARDINAL'S VISIT SADDED.

LUCKY WINNER.

Miss Rose Shee, of 2254 Frankfort avenue, won the subscription to the Kentucky Irish American donated by Philip E. Kelly as a prize at Mrs. Ziz's euchre on Monday evening.

..DEATH..

Without Insurance Is Terrible.

TAKE A POLICY IN THE

Catholic Knights and Ladies of America

REPRESENTED IN TWENTY STATES.

Cheapest Insurance Obtainable. Death Claims Paid in Thirty Days

EXAMINE THESE RATES:

Age.	Quarter.	Half.	Full.	Age.	Quarter.	Half.	Full.
18.	$0.40	$0.80	$1.60	35.	.60	1.20	2.40
19.	.41	.81	1.62	36.	.61	1.22	2.44
20.	.41	.82	1.64	37.	.63	1.25	2.50
21.	.42	.84	1.68	38.	.64	1.27	2.54
22.	.44	.87	1.74	39.	.65	1.30	2.60
23.	.45	.89	1.78	40.	.66	1.32	2.64
24.	.46	.91	1.80	41.	.67	1.34	2.68
25.	.47	.93	1.86	42.	.69	1.37	2.74
26.	.48	.96	1.92	43.	.70	1.40	2.80
27.	.50	1.00	2.00	44.	.71	1.44	2.84
28.</td

NEW PROCESS LIQUID CARBONIC GAS

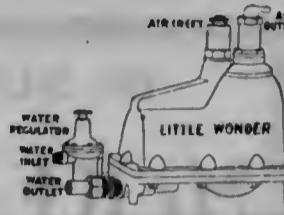

JOS. BARON,

PLUMBER

and

Air Pump Hospital
Doctor

To

Your Needs

Gran W. Smith's Son,
AL SMITH, Proprietor.
Funeral Director and Embalmer
Carriages Furnished for All Occasions on Short Notice.
809 W. JEFFERSON STREET.
TELEPHONE 810.

D. J. DOUGHERTY S. J. McELLIOTT
DOUGHERTY & McELLIOTT,
Funeral Directors and Embalmers.
Both Phones 2908 CARRIAGES FURNISHED FOR ALL OCCASIONS
All Calls Answered Promptly, Day or Night.
1231 WEST MARKET STREET.

HOME PHONE 88 CUMBERLAND 123
J. J. BARRETT'S SONS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
AND EMBALMERS.
838 East Main Street.

J. E. TRACY L. H. STRAUB
BOTH PHONES 363.
TRACY & STRAUB
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
...AND EMBALMERS...
Carriages Furnished on Short Notice.
1531 W. MARKET STREET.

MACAULEY'S.
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday matinee.
"THE STRONGER SEX"
Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee.
"THE RED MILL"
10c HOPKINS 10c
"Where the Crowds Go"
High-Class Picture Entertainment
Continuous from noon until 10:30 p. m.

Change of Program Tuesday,
Thursday and Saturday.
UNDER

ONE MANAGEMENT

FIRST RUN FILMS OUR MOTTO.

Casino Theater, 417 Fourth St.

Princess Theater, 348 West Jefferson Street

Columbia Theater, 317 Fourth Ave.

Dreamland Theater, 444 West Market Street

We cater especially to Ladies and Children.

HENRY HUNOLD

DEALER IN

Staple and Fancy Groceries

A FIRST-CLASS SAMPLE ROOM IN CONNECTION.

Old Whiskies a Specialty.

Phone 4330. 540 W. WALNUT.

White embroidered linen collars continue to be used for shirtwaists.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 1 will meet next Tuesday night.
Thursday will be the regular meeting night for Division 3.

A great crowd attended Division 2's eulogy on Friday night of last week.

Division 4 has two teams of five men each contesting for new members.

The reading of Irish history at the division meetings has proven an interesting feature.

Edward Collins, the County President at Claremont, N. H., is organizing a juvenile division.

At Claremont, N. H., the Ladies' Auxiliary has organized a sewing circle, and meetings are held every week.

Several pool experts, members of Division 4, are going to issue a challenge to the other divisions for a series of match games.

Wednesday is the night for the Ladies' Auxiliary, and a large crowd is expected, as reports on St. Patrick's day celebration are due.

State President George J. Butler and State Secretary William J. Connelly are certainly making reputations for efficiency in their respective offices.

Division 4 of Syracuse is making an effort to reach the highest possible membership before March 17. At the latest meeting twenty candidates were initiated.

The State Board of the Ladies' Auxiliary of New Hampshire met at Dover, and an interesting feature was a lecture on John Boyle O'Reilly by Mrs. Katherine O'Keefe O'Mahony.

Toronto Hibernians are preparing for a big celebration of St. Patrick's day, and many New Yorkers will cross the borders to help their Canadian brethren in observing the day.

March 4 is the anniversary of Robert Emmet's birth, but the County Board of Onondaga county, New York, will celebrate the event with musical and literary exercises a week from tomorrow night.

Officer Thomas O'Neill, one of the most efficient men ever in charge of Central police station, and a veteran Hibernian, is seriously ill at his home on Twelfth street, near Main. His friends hope for his speedy recovery.

It is officially announced that the Right Rev. Bishop McFaul, of Trenton, will not accompany National President Cummings to Ireland. In this event one of the priests from the archdiocese of Boston will probably be the delegate.

The County Board of New York is planning the greatest St. Patrick's day celebration ever held on Manhattan Island.

Division 24 of New York City celebrated Lincoln's birthday by initiating seven new members.

At Mahony City, Pa., the order is up in arms against the St. Patrick's day post cards that are being offered for sale. The post cards are offensive because they misrepresent the Irish race, and dealers who expose these cards for sale have been requested to withdraw them or suffer through lack of patronage of the Irish people.

ANOTHER CARDINAL DIES.

A cablegram from Toledo, Spain, on Thursday brought the information that Cardinal Hervás, Archbishop of that province, died that morning. Cardinal Hervás was born seventy-six years ago and was created Cardinal by Pope Leo XIII, in 1894. This makes another vacancy in the College of Cardinals, but at the next consistory another Spaniard will take his place. He was a friend of Cardinal Merry del Val, the present Papal Secretary of State, and a man of great learning.

VISITED CAPITAL.

P. B. Callahan and his charming wife, who have been on an extended Eastern trip, spent several days in Washington last week. On Friday they visited Representative Ben Johnson at the Capitol and were his guests in the members' gallery.

CHICKASAW'S ACTIVITIES.

Members of Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I., of Memphis, received holy communion in a body at St. Peter's church last Sunday. George H. Lawo, a veteran member of the council, has organized a dancing club, and its first effort was very successful.

FATE OF TRESPASSERS.

The number of trespassers killed by railroads annually is greater than the number of passengers killed in wrecks. The Pennsylvania railroad alone killed 1,500 trespassers within the last two years. If the aggregate of such deaths were obtainable, it would probably astound the world.

CATHOLIC IRELAND.

The English Catholic Directory for 1900, just issued, shows the number of Catholics in Ireland to be 3,310,000. There are nine Catholic members of Parliament in Great Britain and seventy-three in Ireland. The Catholic population of the British Empire is given as 12,053,000.

BRIEF YET ENOUGH.

Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday last Sunday, and his most prized message was one from Pope Pius X. His Holiness' few words were innumerable—"Blessings and felicitations."

BRIEF YET ENOUGH.

A bronze tablet commemorating the memory of Major Gen. John Sullivan and his victory at the battle of Rhode Island, August 29, 1778, has been placed in a niche in the niche in the capitol at Providence, R. I.

BRIEF YET ENOUGH.

A Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

Al Kilkenny, who has been suffering from acute indigestion for the past seven weeks, is on the high road to recovery, to the great relief of his family and friends.

HEALTH GROWS BETTER.

